Abolitionists

William Wilberforce

Wilberforce was an MP who campaigned for 20 years against the slave trade.

He regularly gave speeches and proposed anti-slavery laws in Parliament.

Thomas Clarkson

Thomas Clarkson was an English anti-slavery campaigner and a Quaker.

He helped found the campaign group 'The Society for Affecting the Abolition of the Slave Trade'.

Olaudah Equiano

Equiano was a former slave

He managed to buy his freedom and then set up an anti-slavery group.

He also wrote books and spoke at public meetings.

John Newton

Newton was a former slave ship captain.

He wrote a book about the evils of the slave trade and spoke at public meetings.

He famously wrote the hymn 'Amazing Grace'.

Amazing Grace

Amazing grace how sweet the sound

That saved a wretch like me.

I once was lost but now I'm found.

Was blind but now I see.

'Twas grace that taught my heart to fear

And grace my fears relieved.

How precious did that grace appear

The hour I first believed.

When we've been there ten thousand years

Bright shining as the sun

We've no less days to sing God's praise

Then when we first begun.

Amazing grace, how sweet the sound

That saved a wretch like me.

I once was lost, but now I'm found.

Was blind, but now I see

Hannah More

More was a teacher who became a writer.

During this time she met many people involved in the anti-slavery movement and became an active member too.

Granville Sharp

Sharp was involved in setting up an anti-slavery campaign after meeting a former slave.

He campaigned against the trade and also advocated returning slaves to Africa (Sierra Leone).
